Health and Wellness Spotlight

Ever notice that even though you are the same weight you were a couple of years ago, you have developed a bit of an amorphous shape? It's because your muscles have left you on a vacation to Hawaii, and they're never coming back; much like that plant in the corner the kids sprayed with catnip and let kitty destroy. As a result you lost about a pound of muscle a year and never even noticed it, only for it to be covertly replaced with the Voodoo doughnut from Tuesday. So, even though you maintained your same weight from your wedding day, your significant other is forced to lie and say

In addition to touring as a solo artist, Ehren plays lap steel, guitar and sings with one our favorites, The Dimes.
