Dance Classes for the New

Jenna Robertson - A Show of Love

February 3, 5:00pm - March 1, 5:00pm

This February come and see the delightful imagery of wonderful, local textile artist Jenna Robertson. She creates hand and machine-stitched art, apparel & accessories from reclaimed angora, cashmere, lambswool, merino & mohair.

Each one-of-a-kind collage involves hand drawn and cut wool pieces which are stitched into a sweater background, then stretched on stretcher bars like a canvas. The themes are mainly natural and designs include landscapes, birds, trees, flowers, squirrels, cats, chairs, bunnies, deer and other imagery. All collages are made from 99% recycled material.

We will also have some select apparel, hats & arm warmers all designed by Jenna. Come and cozy up with a spot of wine & chocolate at Pearl Gallery and see this truly amazingly talented textile artist's work in person. Each piece is one of a kind and made specifically for "a show of love." Pearl Gallery & Framing, 1017 NW Davis St.

First Thursday at Caplan Art Designs

February 3, 5 - 9pm

Featuring 22 local northwest artists, Caplan Art Designs will be open for First Thursday from 5 to 9 at 937 NW Glisan. Regular business hours are weekends 12 to 4 or by appointment. Caplan Art Designs has just moved into 937 Condominiums. Caplan Art Designs, 937 NW Glisan St.

PICA Opening Reception

February 3, 6 - 9 pm

For "Between my Head and my Hand", Curator Kristan Kennedy gathers together work in which the body is a painting, a shell, a gesture, a cartoon, a mask. Less portrait and more portrayal, the works include the highly sexualized and political to the austere

Year!

Let the New Year inspire you to try something new! BodyVox offers a wide variety of dance classes seven days a week. There is never a bad time to start a healthy habit or do something fun just for yourself. Trying a type of dance that you're unfamiliar with is a great way to challenge yourself physically and exercise different muscles. Dancing offers important health benefits. Those who dance regularly will enjoy improved flexibility, cardiovascular fitness, energy, strength, and posture. And beyond the physical advantages, taking dance classes can give you lots of confidence, and an artistic outlet.

We have classes for seasoned dancers as well as beginners, and for people of all ages, starting at fourteen months with our Move Together class. We offer all kinds of dance—a Pilates-style Barre Fusion class, Brazilian Capoeira, Afro-Funk, jazz, and contemporary. We offer ballet for adults from beginning to advanced, and ballet for children as well. Our friendly front desk staff can answer all of your questions about our and academic. Seven distinctly different painters render our human form with a reverence for the architecture and meaning of the body without using "live" models as their material. Featuring Amy Bessone, Grant Barnhart, Kaye Donachie, Merlin James, Tala Madani, Elena Pankova, and Norbert Schwontkowski. Feldman Gallery + Project Space at PNCA, 1241 NW Johnson St.

"The Evolution of Ideas" Opening Reception

February 3, 6 - 9pm

Each artist will display one older artwork adjacent to their body of new pieces. Sharing the older work in this way allows the viewer to see threads of continuity in each artist's work, and how they may have changed or evolved over the years. It is an opportunity to see into the creative process of these artists. Waterstone Gallery's annual all-member exhibition will run from February 2nd through Sunday February 27th, 2011. Waterstone Gallery, 424 NW 12th Ave.
